

Datatherapy

Type of organization

AI, Bid data application/ digital health solution supplier

Headquarters (country)

Spain

Maturity Level

In the market

Organization description

We unleash the value of real world data into powerful scientific evidence. through best-in-class data science and statistical methodologies we help you solve those real world challenges that matters.

Solution/service description

We provide data generation and data analysis services to help to transform real world data into real world evidence combining the best of data science and statistical methodologies.

Features/product description

We collaborate in the development of research projects to obtain real-world evidence with impact on the health care system and the community.

Contact

<https://trydatatherapy.com>

Name:

Mail: contact@trydatatherapy.com

